- 5. Consider approval of JKPL Interim Service / Reopening Plan (Updated) I am working on adding some items to the plan regarding potential staff exposure (expectations for informing, self-quarantining, testing, etc.). I will post that and send an email when that is ready. I am also looking at our next step in reopening, however with the current numbers in Dubuque County, I don't foresee that being an issue for some time yet.
- 6. Discussion of vacancies on the JKPL Board of Trustees The executive committee sent out 11 letters and 3 emails. I heard back from two that were considering it and two that were not available / interested. I will check with city hall on Tuesday to see if any applications have been received.
- 7. Consider approval of Library Holiday Hours for FY21 At the first meeting of each FY, the Board establishes a holiday schedule. Since the library is open on weekends, the city paid holidays and the library closing days don't always match exactly. I am enclosing a draft schedule. There are two specific holidays I would like you to review and discuss. Christmas Eve and Christmas Day are city paid holidays. They fall on Thursday and Friday. I suspect the weekend will also be extremely low use so am wondering if you would consider closure for Saturday and / or Sunday as well. July 4 is on a Sunday. The city holiday will be on Monday, July 5. Should we close on that day as well or offer this as a floating holiday (like we do for Day after Thanksgiving).

- 8. Discussion and possible action on the Urban Libraries Council's Statement on Race and Social Equity and the PLA Call on Library Workers to Address Racism Enclosed is the email from the ILA Committee for Diversity & Inclusion regarding possible actions, the statement from the Marion Public Library, the statement from the Urban Libraries Council, and the Call to Action for Public Library Workers to Address Racism.

- 16. Strategic Planning Report Currently, all work on the strategic plan has been postponed, pending being able to meet in person.
- 17. Meetings and Training
 - Upcoming ARSL conference this fall will be virtual.
 Registration opens on July 15 and cost will be $50 for a member so I am planning to register most of the librarians to attend. ILA will also be virtual but I haven't heard any details beyond that.

Upcoming Events for July:

July 1—15: Dyersville Fairytale Scavenger Hunt. Dyersville has been invaded by fairytale characters, and it is your job to find them! Print a "wanted" list off of our website, or pick one up from the library. You must find at least half the characters to earn points for the Summer Reading Program. Sheets must be recorded on READsquared or handed in at the Library by 8:00 pm on July 15 to earn points.

Wednesday, July 1—31: Paper Bag Fairy House Craft. Just because the library is closed doesn't mean we can't help you get crafty at home! Pick up a craft kit from the library, watch the demo video at home, and get crafting!

- Library staff member Shannon has created a video for how to make this fairy house craft with paper bags and markers.
- The video will be available to view on the library's Facebook page starting July 1.
- The craft kit for this project includes all needed supplies and can be picked up at an appointment or via curbside delivery at the library. Kits will be provided while supplies last.

July 1—31: Happy Birthday America! Up-Cycling Greeting Cards for Birthdays. Librarian Ann B. has created a video on the library Facebook page to show you how to use the fronts of donated greeting cards combined with glue and cardstock to make entirely new greeting cards. The library has some kits ready for you to pick up by appointment or via curbside service. Each kit includes a birthday themed greeting card front with coordinating cardstock. All you need is glue. Kits available while supplies last. Need an envelope? We can provide you one, just ask!

July 1—31: Get Puzzled @ Your Library. While we aren't able to work on a puzzle together here at the library yet, why not share what you are doing at home! Post a picture or description of your jigsaw puzzle, in progress or finished, to the library's Facebook page, or email librarian@dyersville.lib.ia.us, or call the library at 563-875-8912 with the name and/or description of the puzzle you are working on at home. And remember we have puzzles to check out if you need one! Everyone who shares in some fashion will get their name entered into a drawing to win a 1000 piece puzzle! Drawing will be held in early August.

Wednesdays, July 1, 8, 15, 22, 29: Virtual Sit and Stitch from 1:00—3:00 pm. Grab your tablet, phone or computer along with your hobby and/or craft and join other crafters in this fun Zoom gathering. Contact Shirley at svonderhaar@dyersville.lib.ia.us for an invitation to attend.

Subject: [LT] [General Talk] ILA Committee for Diversity & Inclusion resource roundup

Jillian Rutledge

July 1

This statement is the opinion of Iowa Library Association's Committee for Diversity & Inclusion and does not necessarily represent the views or opinions of the ILA as a whole

Hello from the Committee for Diversity and Inclusion!

Each month we send out a list of resources that are focused on topics of diversity, equity, inclusion, and social justice. There are a lot of resources included in today's roundup, including a live chat on Twitter hosted by PLA, the inaugural issue of Queer in the Cornbelt Zine, the next topic for our Social Justice Discussion Group, and more.

If you have resources that fall under the diversity and inclusion umbrella you feel might be helpful or interesting for library staff across Iowa, please send them my way and I will work with the committee to share them out as appropriate.

On behalf of ILA CD&I,

Jillian Rutledge, Chair

First and foremost, we would like to encourage all libraries to sign the Urban Libraries Council's Statement on Race and Social Equity.

Examples of public library statements on racial equity:

- Marion Public Library
- Free Library of Philadelphia statement
- Arapahoe Libraries statement
- Indianapolis Public Library statement

Today on Twitter! Live chat at noon!

Join PLA's Task Force on Equity, Diversity, Inclusion and Social Justice (EDISJ) for their first live Twitter chat on Wednesday, July 1 from 12–1:00 p.m. Central! The discussion will focus on EDISJ in the library workforce, and will aim to help library staff understand the interplay of EDISJ principles in workforce development and re-examine systems and policies to expose issues of inequity and injustice.

To participate, simply follow PLA on Twitter (@ALA_PLA) and log in at noon Central on July 1. The EDISJ Task Force will post introductions and discussion questions to get things started. To join the conversation, tweet using the hashtags #chatPLA and #libraryworkers.

To ensure a lively discussion, we're providing the discussion questions ahead of time. So get ready to share your experiences and resources, ask questions, and learn from your peers!

- Has your library normalized a shared lexicon or other formalized initiatives around EDISJ?
- In what ways are communities of color formally recognized as key stakeholders in organizational decision-making?
- In what ways has your library developed hiring practices that support the recruitment and retention of those who are BIPOC?
- Does your library have a systematic review of racial equity?
- What are some of the societal shifts in a post-COVID world that will impact the public library workforce & values?

To learn more about PLA's EDISJ work, please visit http://www.ala.org/pla/initiatives/edi.

Last month saw the publication of the inaugural issue of Queer in the Cornbelt, a zine which focuses on LGBTQ+ health initiatives, stories, and resources across the state of Iowa.

This zine is the culmination of work by librarians, diversity workers, health science professionals, and LGBTQ+ community members in Iowa, and is an effort to spark conversations about curbing the disparity in access to affirming healthcare and quality information for LGBTQ+ folx.

In these pages we hope you find new insights, ideas, information, and hope, whether you identify as LGBTQ+, are a healthcare provider, information professional, or someone who just embraces lifelong learning and growing. Feel free to print copies of the zine using the printer-friendly version on the zine website's home page.

Social Justice Discussion Group:

Starting in January, CD&I has been hosting bi-monthly Zoom calls during which we discuss issues relating to diversity and inclusion. So far we have explored articles, blogs posts, videos, podcasts, and more on the topics of Living With Mental Illness or a Mental Health Condition, Microaggressions, and Ethnicity.

Throughout the month of July we will be reading, watching, and listening to resources about the topic of Sexuality. Discussions are scheduled for August 5th at 9:00 am and August 10th at 2:00 pm. We would love it if you joined us for either or both calls. The level of participation is up to each attendee; you may actively contribute to the discussion or just listen & learn.

Marion Public Library Statement on Racial Injustice

Posted on June 19, 2020 - 5:07pm

Like many of you in our community, our hearts are breaking because of the recent killings of George Floyd, Ahmaud Arbery, and Breonna Taylor.

We have struggled with finding and articulating the right words to explain our sorrow, rage, grief, and compassion. One of our roles as a public library is to make sure that all feel welcome and to provide space and resources for education. On Juneteenth, this day of celebration and reflection, we wanted to share a statement and some resources.

We are a work in progress but commit to improving for our staff, patrons, and community every day. We will show up, we will speak up, we will listen, we will learn. We are in the process of creating an action plan for our ongoing commitment to anti-racism and will share that plan publicly after internal review on August 1.

In closing, we would like to share and affirm the Iowa Library Association Statement on Racism and Injustice.

In Solidarity,

The Marion Public Library

ILA Statement on Racism and Injustice

As representatives of the Iowa Library Association, we proclaim our solidarity with Iowans and Americans who are currently demonstrating for racial justice and for the rights of all to live free of oppression. We state unequivocally that Black Lives Matter. The systemic racism that negatively impacts the lives of people of color is contradictory to all that libraries stand for as institutions committed to equal access to information, content, and services.

The Iowa Library Association stands with library workers, with our library patrons, and with members of the communities we serve who experience acts of prejudice, threats of violence, and discrimination based solely on their race or ethnicity. We believe that it is necessary for our profession to speak out against the violence experienced due to racism and ensure that we provide equitable services and resources.

We feel moved to speak out on this subject out of concern for our colleagues, our patrons, and our communities as a whole. As a profession, we need to be clear that Black Lives Matter. Hatred, violence, prejudice, or exclusion of people because of their appearance is not acceptable and that needs to be demonstrated by libraries on a daily basis. We can only do this by voicing our support for people of color and by working against systemic oppression. ILA has taken action to work against systemic oppression by forming the Committee for Diversity and Inclusion (CD&I) in 2016, which works to advance awareness and improve services to a wide range of often underserved populations in Iowa. The Committee promotes awareness of issues related to traditionally underrepresented groups. CD&I presented the ILA Statement on Social Justice, Diversity, Equity, & Inclusion which was adopted by the ILA Executive Board on December 6, 2019. As an organization, we are committed to continuing this work to address inequality in our profession and in the larger culture.

We are proud of how Iowa Libraries continue to serve our communities through these difficult times. Libraries across the state are providing resources, creating booklists, providing safe spaces, and supporting those who depend on us. Let us stand together and support those seeking justice and equity.

Resources for Anti-Racism

We've begun to compile a list of Resources for Anti-Racism. This list is inexhaustive and only the beginning. If you'd like to find more resources, you can explore this document(http://www.bit.ly/AllyGuideBLM) made by a local activist. Have a resources you'd like to share with us? Statement on Race and Social Equity

ULC Statement on Race and Social Equity

In a strong act of commitment to a more equitable society, 177 public libraries across North America have signed the Urban Libraries Council's Statement on Race and Social Equity. This statement serves as a baseline upon which libraries can build policies and actions that make their communities more inclusive and just. The statement reads as follows:

As leaders of North America's public libraries, we are committed to achieving racial and social equity by contributing to a more just society in which all community members can realize their full potential. Our libraries can help achieve true and sustained equity through an intentional, systemic and transformative library-community partnership. Our library systems are working to achieve equity in the communities we serve by:

- Eliminating racial and social equity barriers in library programs, services, policies and practices
- Creating and maintaining an environment of diversity, inclusion and respect both in our library systems and in all aspects of our community role
- Ensuring that we are reaching and engaging disenfranchised people in the community and helping them express their voice
- Serving as a convener and facilitator of conversations and partnerships to address community challenges
- o Being forthright on tough issues that are important to our communities

Libraries are trusted, venerable and enduring institutions, central to their communities and an essential participant in the movement for racial and social equity.

Call to Action for Public Library Workers to Address Racism

PLA Statement Condemning Systemic Racism and Violence Against BIPOC People

The Public Library Association (PLA), a division of the American Library Association (ALA), calls on public library workers to commit to structural change and to taking action to end systemic racism and injustice. PLA thanks members of its Task Force on Equity, Diversity, Inclusion and Social Justice for their guidance and leadership in development of this statement and call to action. The statement recognizes and supports ALA's statement condemning violence against BIPOC, protesters and journalists, and ALA's statement acknowledging ALA's role in perpetuating structural racism. PLA applauds the creation of a working group to create recommendations on restorative justice practices and the use/presence of police in libraries (ALA CD #45).

The Public Library Association shares the nation's anger, sadness, and frustration over the epidemic of violent acts perpetrated against Black people. We demand justice for George Floyd, Breonna Taylor, Ahmaud Arbery and countless others, and for their families and communities. We stand in solidarity with Black people engaging in collective action against systemic racism, oppression, and injustice. Across the country, the pattern of police violence in response to protests — coupled with a pandemic that is disproportionately impacting communities of color — further reveals our country's disgraceful legacy of state-sanctioned violence against Black people. We join the chorus of voices demanding an end to this violence and insisting that Black Lives Matter.

Because we believe that #LibrariesTransform, we also commit to honest reflection and structural change. We acknowledge that public libraries have been — and still are — complicit in systems that oppress, exclude, and harm Black people, indigenous people, and people of color (BIPOC). The library profession remains overwhelmingly white, despite decades of emphasis on diversity and inclusion. We see incredible examples of self- determination and resilience by BIPOC librarians and educators, yet the profession has largely failed to improve conditions and ensure pathways for advancement among library workers of color. We commit to dismantling white supremacy in libraries and librarianship. We recognize the urgency of this collective work, and commit to hold ourselves, our colleagues, and our institutions accountable when we fall short.

Call to Action for Public Library Workers

We call on public library workers to join us in taking the following action steps:

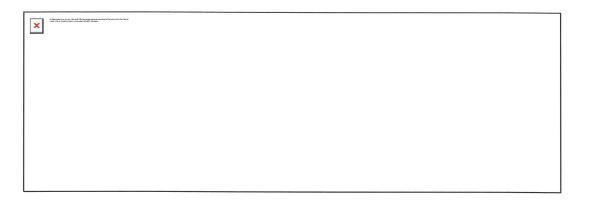

- Study, amplify, and align with the policy demands of the Movement for Black Lives. Ask yourself: What can the movement's call to divest from punishment and policing while investing in long-term safety strategies such as schools, libraries, employment, health, and housing mean for your library and your community?
- Change library policies that punish and criminalize patron behavior. Invest in alternatives to policing and security guards within library spaces. See, It's not enough to say Black Lives Matter.
- Evaluate the messages about police and policing libraries promote to children and families in programs and collections. See, Policing Doesn't Protect Us, and Evaluating Children's Books about Police.
- Create a Plan of Action for addressing racism and working toward collective liberation. Start where you are, engage others, and make a long-term commitment to listening, action, and reflection.
- Address structural racism. Work with BIPOC communities to identify and implement structural changes that must occur within libraries. Build staff investment at every level, while shifting resources to support racial equity initiatives in libraries and staff-led action teams. Evaluate policies and procedures using racial equity tools and develop racial equity action plans to sustain this work.
- Develop and fund programs, services, and collections that center the voices and experiences of people of color and shift power to communities for co-curation and co-creation.
- Materially support organizations that provide resources and build community for BIPOC working in libraries, including We Here, the Spectrum Scholarship Program, BCALA, and JCLC.

PLA and the PLA Task Force on Equity, Diversity, Inclusion and Social Justice commit to do the following:

- Convene meaningful conversations about EDISJ in public libraries. In the next few months, we will be hosting a series of Twitter chats. The next chat will be on Creating Inclusive Communities on August 5 at 12:00 p.m. Central.
- Identify the action step(s) above that we are collectively best positioned to address during our next year of work and develop concrete recommendations for PLA to advance racial equity and organizational change in libraries;
- Evaluate the structure of the Task Force with the aim of creating a more diverse and representative entity with the capacity to move this transformative work forward; and

Embrace discomfort as we navigate challenging and emotional subjects. To uproot racism and white supremacy within ourselves and our institutions will require immense courage, compassion, and the honest desire for accountability.

Twitter Chat on Creating Inclusive Communities

Join PLA's Task Force on Equity, Diversity, Inclusion and Social Justice (EDISJ) for another live Twitter chat on Wednesday, August 5 from 12–1:00 p.m. Central! The discussion will focus on creating inclusive communities.

To participate, simply follow PLA on Twitter (@ALA PLA) and log in at noon Central on August 5. The EDISJ Task Force will post introductions and discussion questions to get things started. To join the conversation, tweet using the hashtags #chatPLA and #inclusion.

PLA's Task Force on EDISJ

Since 2017, we have worked to help library workers develop shared language and learn to use racial equity tools to address equity, diversity, inclusion, and social justice in the library field. For more information, please check out our two free, on-demand PLA webinars:

Notes from the June 23, 2020 Zoom meeting of the Fundraising Committee:

The fundraising committee of the James Kennedy Public Library met via Zoom at 6:00 pm on Monday, June 23, 2020. Participants were chairperson Mary Jane Meade and members Catherine O'Hea, Karen Kramer, Brenda Ingles, and Shirley Vonderhaar.

Build-a-Basket Fundraiser: 44 baskets were donated and $1463 was raised.

Wine and Beer Tasting: The April event was cancelled due to the Covid-19 closures. As businesses are starting to reopen, the committee discussed whether it was time to reach out to Brew & Brew to see if they would like to schedule something for September per earlier discussions, or it if was too early to start planning. After discussion it was agreed that Shirley will contact Becca, the owner of Brew & Brew, to see if she wants to put something on the schedule and start planning or if she would prefer to wait.

Plant Sale Fundraiser: This fundraiser brought in $225.00. We have not yet received the $100 from Ideal Decorating.

Candy Sales: Staff are continuing to purchase up the stock we have. Shirley will restock this when we are able to open with fewer restrictions.

Making and selling upcycled greeting cards: After discussion the committee decided to remove this idea from consideration since library staff are doing Take and Make programming with upcycling cards.

Pop-Up Fundraisers: The original plan was to talk with Pizza Hut & Subway about hosting pop-up fundraisers this spring / summer as new events, and to partner again with Dairy Queen for an event in the summer similar to what was held last August. Due to the current environment, the Committee decided NOT to contact potential new partners at this time. Since we have worked with DQ in the past and they have a large outdoor area, Karen will contact Melissa Otto, the owner, to see if she would want to do something this year. School starts August 13 so there is a relatively small window if we want to hold it before school is in session.

Pop-Up Library & Fundraiser at Down Town Friday Nights: Downtown Friday Night is scheduled for Friday, July 10 and Saturday, August 8. Shirley shared information from Karla Thompson regarding the plan for the July event. They are having fewer children's activities – no bounce house, train, etc. – due to the Covid-19 concerns and are setting up with social distancing. They welcome the library to host the pop-up library in the parking lot and sell freezer pops if we wished. After discussion, the committee decided to set up the pop-up library from 6:30 to 8:00 pm only. We will sell the pops we have on hand for $1.00 each but not purchase any additional. Workers will wear masks, provide hand sanitizer, and sanitize as appropriate. Shirley, Catherine and Mary Jane will work, possibly in shifts. Karen and Brenda were unsure regarding if they would be able to participate.

Dyersville Downtown Market: Last year the committee discussed selling something at the Downtown Market events as a fundraiser. Due to Covid-19, the committee decided this was not the year to start something like this and will consider this in the spring of 2021.

Rounding up Fundraisers: The committee agreed that this year is not the time to be asking for funds, but instead we should be looking for ways we can support the community. This opportunity will be discussed again when the economy is more robust.

Donation of percentage of sales: The committee agreed that this year is not the time to be asking for funds, but instead we should be looking for ways we can support the community. This opportunity will be discussed again when the economy is more robust.

Other projects / activities we would like to consider? Catherine brought up the idea of working with Food Trucks as a fundraiser. The committee was concerned that we not bring in anything that would be directly competing with local businesses but if there were something we could consider that would be different (like hot dogs or carnival food) that might be a good option for raising some funds. Catherine will investigate this idea further and we will discuss at the next meeting.

Anything Else?

Set date for next meeting: The committee did not schedule a meeting but will plan to meet sometime in later July as needed.

Council approves employee wages

Will seek outside consultant next year

While the Dyersville City Council unanimously approved wage and salary increases for city employees, next year they want to contract outside consultation to help determine just how substantial those increases should be.

At a special council meeting June 29, the council set compensation for 30 employees for the next fiscal year, based on a recommendation from the Public and Administration Committee.

Across the board, most employees received a 2% bump in pay, but the P&A Committee did recommend a significantly larger raise for one long-serving employee.

City Clerk Tricia Maiers was given an 8% raise, for a salary of $69,500 per year.

According to supporting documentation, the clerk/treasurer's role has taken on a lot more responsibility over the last decade, some of which was due to the extra workload brought on by the COVID-19 public health emergency.

In a supporting letter to the council, City Administrator Mick Michel outlined seven ways in which Maiers' job significantly changed, including additional auditing, tax and permit processing, updating billing systems, converting files to a digital format and maintaining the city's website.

Councilman Tom Westhoff, who serves on the P&A Committee, said while Maiers' raise is substantial percentage-wise, it was in line with comparable cities. Westhoff added they also took into account whether similar municipalities had a finance director, a role Maiers also performs.

Westhoff said while Maiers' current salary was pretty close to the median, her 20 years of service was higher in the grouping of the 38 cities he was examining.

"The more I looked at it, I guess the more comfortable I got," Westhoff said.

"I think this bump in salary after 20 years has been earned by Tricia as the city has changed considerably," Councilman Mike English added.

Looking beyond this year, Westhoff said it might be time to get outside consultation in respect to wages, noting that the police department also had to undergo some substantial increases to get its pay scale in line with other cities earlier this year.

"They were necessary to stay competitive," Westhoff said of the increases, "but every now and again it seems like we're playing catch-up. I know there are consulting firms out there that do compensation benefit reviews for municipalities."

Westhoff said if they had better parameters in mind, they could avoid these large jumps in the future, which would also add additional stability to the budgeting process.

Mayor Jim Heavens said he agrees with outside consultation, saying in the past some have disagreed with what cities Dyersville is comparing itself to when setting wages.

"Even though it's going to cost us something, I think its time to get somebody from the outside to give us a set point," Heavens said.

But Heavens added that the council also has to be prepared for any outside findings that may say the staff is underpaid, a sentiment the council agreed with.

"That's a double-edged sword that could go either way — it could say we're paying way too much or way too little and we're going to have to address it one way or another, you can't turn a blind eye to it," Councilman Mike Oberbroeckling said.
